Miscellaneous Items

PHZ 5156

Thursday, August 24

1. The course webpage, which will have homeworks, exercises, helpful links, is at:

   http://physics.ucf.edu/schellin/teaching/phz5156.html

2. The book should be in the bookstore sometime soon, and it is a helpful reference that I encourage you to buy. However, it is online so in principle you can avoid buying it. Here is the link:

   http://library.lanl.gov/numerical/bookfpdf.html

   A link will be made on the class web page.

3. Any earlier edition of Arfken will be fine. I will rarely follow the book closely. Other mathematical methods books are likely to work as well. I might choose problems from Arfken, however, for homework sets.

4. Computer projects should be handed in as a group. Written homework is to be done individually although it is understood that you will interact with others.
