Linux Supplement
Configuring an ACM profile

1. Log in as root and type ‘linuxconf’.
2. Under Control and Control Files and Systems, select Configure System Profiles.
3. Click Add. Enter ‘acm’ and click Accept.
4. Under Default Archiving Family, select Home-Office. Enter ‘acm’ for the ‘station identity’, ‘network connectivity’, and ‘title/comment’. Click Accept twice.
5. Click Switch system profile and select ‘acm’.
6. You may now continue with the configuration for Linux users.
7. When you return home, simply switch back to your previous profile and activate it.